DETAILED ACTION

1. The drawings filed 12-21-2007 are acceptable.
2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. The amendment filed 12-21-2007 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: the newly added amendment “the chamber having an opening with a lid” to [0013] of the specification is new matter not supported by the original specification. Furthermore, new matter also found in the newly amended claim 1 (see details in the following paragraph).

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

4. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The new limitation “the chamber having an opening with a lid” at line 9 is new matter has no support in the original disclosure. Similarly, the new limitation “a length longer than

(than) an operator's arm" at line 13 also include new matter not supported by the original disclosure. Cancellation of the new matter is required.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claimed scope is still unclear. Notwithstanding the new matter as set forth above, the limitation "a length longer than (than) an operator's arm" at line 13 is also vague and indefinite. It is pointed out that the claimed "length" cannot be determined because "an operator's arm" is not a part of the claimed structure and "it is not known exactly how long "an operator's arm" would be. Similarly, the limitation "the blocker is constructed and arranged to have the identical dimensions shape of an opening of the open microwave oven" is also vague and indefinite because "the open microwave oven" is not a part of the claimed combination. That is, it is not certain what "the identical dimensions and shape" would be. It can be seen without the recitation of the combination with the microwave oven, the limitation is a mere intended use and structurally meaningless as the claimed scope is not known. Clarification and correction are required.

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1 and 3, as far as the claims are understood and proper, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jeppson (US 4,570,045), in view of Muller et al (US 3,909,574) (both newly cited).

As far as the claims are understood, all that is being claimed is box shape chamber of dielectric material with internal and exterior surfaces and end surfaces. This is met by Jeppson that shows a tunnel microwave oven with a tunnel 17 covered by a housing 12. The housing is complete formed of a microwave absorbing material (see Figures 1 and col. 5, line 21 - col. 8, line 65). It does not show the use a metallic layer on the outside of the dielectric housing. However, the use of a metallic layer for covering a microwave oven chamber to further reduce microwave leakages is well known in the art as shown by the layer 17 in Muller (see Figure 1 and col. 2, line 48 - col. 3, line 30). It would have been obvious to an ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify Jeppson to add a metallic layer on the external surface of the dielectric housing to further prevent microwave leakages to the environment to enhance safety, in view of the teaching of Muller.

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 3 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
